MAKE OUR ELECTIONS FRAUD FREE!

The 2020 elections involved many unprecedented procedural changes which loosened the protections against fraud and in some cases were of questionable constitutionality. Before 2022 and 2024, these problems must be addressed. Our elections must be fair and honest beyond any reasonable doubt.

Many of the states are already acting to eliminate the problems of 2020. Here is a list of changes, supported by The Conservative Caucus, which should be enacted in each state which does not already have them in place.

1. Stop the indiscriminate mailing out of ballots. A ballot should only be sent if it is requested by a registered voter, and the system should require that the voter provide identification.

2. Ballots should be counted only if they arrive by election day. It may be necessary to allow a few exceptions, such as for the military, but ballots that arrive days or even weeks later should not be included in the count.

3. States must take care to verify that each person registering to vote is an American citizen. It is not enough to go by the honor system. The rules for registration must be effectively enforced.

4. Those who die or move must be removed from the voting rolls before each election. Leaving such people on the voter registration lists is an invitation to fraud.

5. Vote counting should continue without a break until it is completed. If this means bringing in shifts of workers, do it. Results must be known as soon as possible, with adequate time to challenge anything that may be questionable.

6. States must use voting systems with paper ballots that can be counted by hand to verify the machine scanning count. A few states still lack this fundamental safeguard.

7. States must devise procedures that allow observers for each party to clearly see what is being done in the vote count. This might involve a combination of on-site observers for a general view of what is happening, plus cameras to provide a close-up of the handling of each ballot (and this should be recorded in case of dispute).

8. States must be sure that they have adequate methods for matching signatures on ballots received by mail. Machines may not be able to do the job.

However, all of this necessary reform is threatened by the so-called For the People Act, H.R. 1 and S. 1, which would nationalize our elections. This bill would prohibit voter ID, require absentee ballots to be mailed to all who request them without identity verification, require internet voter registration and registration on election day, automatically register people on government databases, make it more difficult to challenge voters, and make it more difficult to remove voters who have died or moved.

H.R. 1 is a wish list for Nancy Pelosi and her radical Democrats who want to rig our future elections, opening the door to massive fraud. It must be defeated!
